► PROGRAMME

Post Covid, the real estate sector in Asia is rebounding, but it still needs to find solutions regarding financing, climate change, affordable housing, geopolitics, demographics, technology, and changing user expectations.

The MIPIM Asia offers a platform to address these challenges and accelerate positive change toward a more sustainable, user-centric, and profitable real estate industry.

Explore the diverse and dynamic opportunities that await in Asia's ever-evolving property sector and join us to :

- discover Asia Pacific inbound and outbound investment flows, regional development opportunities and projects, and real estate trends
- collaborate through high-level networking and discussions
- accelerate decarbonization
